

BUSINESS

THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR ♦ SATURDAY, MAY 19, 2007 ♦ INDYSTAR.COM/BUSINESS

TechPoint announces 2007 Mira award winners

A line of products to rapidly determine cholesterol rates and other levels in blood won Innovation of the Year during this year's Mira Awards, sponsored by Techpoint. Polymer Technology Systems, a diagnostic medical device manufacturer based in Indianapolis, makes the products. The awards recognize achievements in technology in Indiana and were presented Friday. Other business winners, by category: best information technology company, ExactTarget, e-mail marketing software maker; information technology gazelle company, ChaCha, an Internet search engine; health and life-sciences company, AIT Laboratories, analytical testing and research provider; health and life-sciences gazelle company, Quadraspec, technology platform builder; advanced manufacturing company, AccuTemp Products, which changed griddle-cooking technology; advanced manufacturing gazelle company, ICx Griffin Analytical, a creator of chemical analysis tools; distribution, transportation, logistics company, TransWorks, creator of networking applications for transportation management; and distribution, transportation, logistics gazelle company, Sentry Logistic Solutions, provider of temperature-controlled storage and shipping services.