Sentry Logistic Solutions Earns Prestigious TechPoint Mira Award

Organization receives honor in the distribution, transportation and logistics category

INDIANAPOLIS (May 24, 2007) – Sentry Logistic Solutions today announced it has received a coveted 2007 TechPoint Mira Award in the distribution, transportation and logistics (DTL) category. Nearly 1,000 technology, life science and DTL industry professionals attended the award ceremony on May 18 which honored Sentry and a dozen other high-performing companies.

The Mira Awards are presented by TechPoint, Indiana's largest statewide technology and industry trade association. The award program acknowledges corporate and individual accomplishments in the following categories: DTL, information technology, health and life sciences, education, innovation and advanced manufacturing. With more than 80 companies nominated and only one winner from each category, the selection process was highly competitive.

"Earning the TechPoint Mira Award validates the strength of our business model and the significant market demand for our services," said Jennifer Marcum, Sentry's chief executive officer. "We are honored to stand among the ranks of a dozen other organizations that also are focused on achieving innovation, growth and success in the global marketplace. Receiving this award is a true testament to the guidance, leadership and hard work of Sentry's staff, advisory board and partners."
